- Instructor: Sergeant Wanda Hainley Hendry County Sheriff's Office and Shar Beddow, LCFMA
- Course Contents: This hands-on training class is tailored for Fire Marshals and Inspectors to educate fire service personnel on how to recognize the signs of human trafficking and effectively respond within their scope of authority. Taught by a seasoned law enforcement officer experienced in trafficking cases, this class bridges the gap between public safety and law enforcement by providing real-world insight into how traffickers operate and how victims may present during emergency responses, inspections, or routine encounters. The course emphasizes interagency cooperation, situational awareness, and reporting protocols to ensure fire personnel play a proactive role in identifying and disrupting human trafficking operations. The second portion of class, yes you must attend the entire day to obtain the CEU's, will cover Fire Alarm Introduction and Inspections.
